

Resort digital signage system - InfoPanels™

InfoPanels is a complex system of digital information panels providing a single point or wide area distribution of static and dynamic (multimedia) informations from any area covered by resort services. Even small hotel or large holiday complex can benefit using this system, which can be simply interconnected with all partners providing complementary services or travel agencies. What more, the system can make money itself by selling advertising time, so the cost of ownership can be minimized or the system can become one of direct profit sources...

What to do with InfoPanels in Your hotel:
